

THOUSANDS FLEE WARSAW TO ESCAPE RAIDS

OGLE WOMAN SURVIVOR OF SUNKEN SHIP

No Word of Husband and Daughter Received Today

Associated Press dispatches from Glasgow, Scotland, today listed as among survivors of the torpedoed liner Athenia "Mrs. Elin Ratcliffe and Miss J. Jordan", believed here to be Mrs. Ernest Ratcliffe of Oregon and Miss Jeanette Jordan of Freeport. No mention had been made in AP word today of Mrs. Ratcliffe's husband, or their daughter Faith, who were also passengers on the ill-fated liner.

London, Sept. 5—(AP)—A thousand survivors of the sunk British liner Athenia—first great sea disaster of the new European war—were brought ashore by rescue boats today, many asserting the ship was sent to the bottom by a submarine.

Landed at Galway, Ireland, and Greenock, Scotland, the survivors told of how a torpedo blasted a hole in the hull Sunday night and asserted the attacking vessel immediately afterward broke surface and fired on the stricken liner.

The total casualty list has not been determined. About 1,450 persons apparently were aboard the liner, including about 300 Americans.

Two British destroyers landed about 600 survivors at Greenock, about 200 of them injured and many suffering from exposure. The Norwegian ship Knut Nelson brought 430 refugees to Galway, where United States Minister John Cudahy watched them brought ashore.

The Knut Nelson's crew said many of the passengers were killed when the ship's boiler exploded after the torpedo found its mark.

Most of the passengers were at dinner. The lifeboats were launched, survivors related, within an hour and a quarter. Several dozen of the casualties occurred when the propeller of the Norwegian ship struck a lifeboat containing 52 women.

Shaken and weeping, the survivors landed at Greenock were taken to hospitals and nursing homes in Glasgow for treatment. Addressing the House of Lords, Earl Stanhope, lord president of the council, said "there was no question whatever as to what was the cause of the sinking."

Mrs. Clyde Speck, Franklin Grove, Dies Suddenly

(Telegraph Special Service)
Franklin Grove, Sept. 5—At 6 o'clock this morning, less than two days after her husband had left by auto for New Jersey, where he had accepted a position and expecting to follow him shortly, Mrs. Clyde Speck of this place passed away at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bratton, Rockford.

Mrs. Speck, aged about 55, a native and life-long resident of Franklin Grove, was taken ill Saturday afternoon during the auction sale of her personal property here, preparatory to leaving for New Jersey, and was taken to the Bratton home after the sale.

Efforts are being made to contact Mr. Speck and have him return to Franklin Grove. Until that is done arrangements for the funeral cannot be made.

Labor Day Week End Fatalities in Country 373

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Violent deaths in the nation during the Labor Day week-end numbered at least 373.

Traffic accidents, as usual, were the leading cause of death. At least 232 persons were killed on streets and highways as thousands of motorists jammed holiday ways for the final double-holiday outing of the summer.

Drownings, shootings, train accidents and other causes swelled the list of fatalities. The nation counted at least 49 drownings.

The middlewest suffered the heaviest loss of life, the states of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Minnesota, Missouri, Michigan and Wisconsin contributing more than a third of the nation's total. Deaths by states included:

Toll By States
Illinois 34; Indiana 17; Iowa 8; Kentucky 17; Michigan 15; Minnesota 17; Missouri 16; Ohio 26; Wisconsin 16.

Traffic accidents claimed the greatest number in Illinois as usual. There were 24 killed on the streets and highways. Two persons drowned, two were shot to death and six were killed by a train. Twenty-one of the deaths occurred in Chicago.

There were 28 Labor Day week-end deaths in Illinois last year. In a head-on automobile crash near Moline yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo H. Lage of Davenport, Iowa, were burned to death. Six Chicago Negroes were killed when they were struck by an Illinois Central suburban train while they stood on the tracks waving to relatives departing on another train.

Albert Herebert, 26, of St. David, Ill., was fatally injured in a motorcycle crackup at Canton.

Warner Objects to Proposed Sanitary Sewer in West End

Attorney H. C. Warner has filed in county court a formal objection to the construction of the proposed sanitary sewer on Lincoln avenue and Christiana Terrace in the west end of the city, as owner of three lots included in the special assessment and representing Mary A. Donohue of Chicago, owner of two lots. The objection will be argued on Sept. 15th, and the hearing on the project will be heard before a special jury at a date to be decided upon later.

The objection contends that the local improvement ordinance, No. 295 is vague, uncertain, ambiguous and indefinite and further states that the county court is without jurisdiction to confirm the assessment filed by the commissioner, Attorney Miss Ruth Leydig. At the time that the improvement was started by the city council few objectors were present at the first hearing and at a later hearing, no objection was made. The ordinance provides for the construction of a sanitary sewer on Lincoln avenue from Fourth street to Christiana Terrace which would serve two of Dixon's important factories.

"Pants Bandit" Suspect Questioned Here

A lone bandit, who about four years ago became known and feared here as the "pants bandit" when he held up and robbed motorists, relieving them of their trunks, came to light over the week end. A suspect for whom the police have been watching for months, appeared in Dixon Saturday night and was taken to the police station for questioning. The suspect denied having been implicated in any of the robberies and was released. The "pants bandit", it will be recalled, miraculously escaped a running gun battle through the streets of Oregon on one occasion when he robbed a Dixon taxi driver on the Pines state park road and then wrecked the car as he sped around a curve going toward Oregon.

U. S. Army Planes, Missing in Tropics, Reported Safe Today

Christobal, Canal Zone, Sept. 5—(AP)—Army authorities announced today that three United States Army planes previously reported missing over Costa Rica had been found with all personnel aboard safe.

The aircraft, pursuit planes of the new P-36 type, had become detached from a group of 30 being flown yesterday from Marsh, Langley and Selfridge fields to Panama. Bad weather forced them to make emergency landings.

First army reports did not disclose where the three planes had been located.

WAR BOOSTS THE PRICES OF FARM PRODUCTS IN U. S.

Wall Street Active With Upsurge of Stock Quotations

Chicago, Sept. 5—(AP)—Europe's war caused heavy buying of principal agricultural commodities today as the market opened for the first time since England and France entered the conflict.

Grain prices skyrocketed three to five cents a bushel, as much as trading rules would permit. This lifted wheat values here to $1 3-8—$2 5-8, the highest in a year and a half, while corn sold at 53 3-4—57 1-8, best level since January.

The advance of 13 cents a bushel in wheat since Friday and 10 cents in corn was the sharpest witnessed in the grain market in years.

Hog prices soared as much as 75 cent a hundredweight in early trade, good and choice 170 to 270 pound kinds selling up to $7.75 cents, highest since last March.

Stalemate on Board
The Board of Trade grain pit, however, presented a unique spectacle of inactivity. Government and exchange regulations curbing excessive speculative activity completely throttled business. It was the first time in the exchange's history that such a stalemate had been reached.

Government regulations, besides limiting the extent of speculative trading and giving Commodity Exchange Administration officials power to obtain information as to trading positions at all times, limit the amount which prices can fluctuate in any session.

These limits, figured on the basis of the previous day's close amount to five cents for wheat and rye, four cents for corn and three cents for oats. Strengthening these limits, Board of Trade directors in special session before the opening of the market ruled that September contracts, on which delivery of actual grain is being made this month, also would fall under these limits.

WALL STREET ACTIVE
New York, Sept. 5—(AP)—Wall Street experienced one of the most spectacular upsurges in prices of stocks and commodities in its history today, as resumption of trading after the holiday found a feverish urge to buy in expectation of "war" prices.

Stock—particularly steels, non-ferrous metals, oils, chemicals and machinery-makers—jumped $1 to around $15 a share.

Wheat again bounded the limit permitted in a day's trading of five cents a bushel at Chicago, Winnipeg and Minneapolis, and raw materials generally surged upward, both food and industrial.

Buying orders appeared at the opening of the exchange in such volume for some of the steels that specialists were not able to straighten out their book and make an opening price until an hour later.

U. S. Steel finally opened with a transfer of 25,000 shares, reflecting bunched orders, at $62, up $8.62; Republic with 40,000 shares at $26, up $6.38, and Bethlehem with 25,000 at $78, up $9.75.

Communists Offered $250,000 to Nominate FDR

Washington, Sept. 5—(AP)—Earl Browder, general secretary of the American communist party, told the Dies committee today that the party was offered $250,000 by a group of anonymous individuals in 1936 to nominate President Roosevelt as its candidate.

The offer was made to him as party head, Browder testified, by a man whom he knew only as "Davidson." Davidson, he said, told him he was representing a group of six or seven wealthy "Republicans."

Browder said the purpose of the offer was clearly to reduce the vote of the Democratic party by attaching to it the "relative unpopularity" of the communist party.

The offer was first $100,000, the witness asserted, and "then when I reacted rather coldly he tried to warm me up by raising the ante to $250,000."

Browder said he did not flatly refuse the offer but carried on negotiations to the point of discussing a depository bank in which funds could be placed to show good faith of the offer. He did this, he explained, in the hope of obtaining information about those behind the offer, but was

German Freighter Reported Sunk --

London, Sept. 5—(AP)—Information was received in London today that the German ship Carl Fritzen had been sunk and that its crew was safe.

The announcement likewise recounted the already reported sinking of the German ship Olinda, sent to the bottom Sunday by the guns of the British cruiser Ajax.

The Carl Fritzen, of 659 tons gross and owned by J. Fritzen & Sons, was bound from Scheidam, the Netherlands, for Canada or Buenos Aires.

Cunard Steamer Sunk; Crew Safe --

Liverpool, England, Sept. 5—(AP)—The Cunard line announced today that its steamer Bosnia had been sunk by a submarine and her crew of 23 rescued by a Norwegian tanker.

A message from the 2,407-ton Bosnia, interrupted before completion, gave her position as about 100 miles off the Scottish coast. The tanker was reported proceeding to Lisbon with the rescued.

One death aboard the Bosnia was reported, that of a fireman named Woods.

The Bosnia was set ablaze by gunfire and then torpedoed, the company announced.

Guns' Rumble Heard in Amsterdam --

Amsterdam, Sept. 5—(AP)—The rumble of guns in an undetermined direction could be heard plainly in Amsterdam today.

Two incidents of foreign planes flying over the Netherlands during the night were reported officially.

In the first instance anti-aircraft batteries south of Amsterdam fired at the unidentified planes.

In an apparently unrelated case, more than 50 shots were fired over a 30-minute period about 5 a. m. It was not reported whether any hits were made.

Nothing in Common With Nazis --

London, Sept. 5—(AP via Radio)—"It is not our war," German workers were described as saying today in a message sent over news tickers in London.

"We have nothing in common with the present regime; the German workers and peasants do not want war and have nothing in common with the Nazi regime," said the communication to the Independent Labor Party from the Independent Socialists in Germany.

"Hitler begins the war with Poland against the will of large masses of the population. Comrades, we love Germany, but though we love our native country we have nothing in common with the present regime."

Commercial Cable Services Off --

New York, Sept. 5—(AP)—The Commercial Cable Company reported today its cable service between Emden, Germany, and the Azores had been "interrupted" by some unexplained cause.

The Emden-Azores cable passes through the English channel. British authorities made no immediate comment.

The Azores, off the coast of Portugal, is a relay point for various transatlantic cable services.

Turkey Keeps an Eye on Italy --

Istanbul, Sept. 5—(AP)—Competent circles said today that Turkey, faithful to its alliance with Great Britain and France, would maintain an "attitude of expectation" with a close watch on Italy.

It was emphasized that Turkey would move immediately should Italy show signs of joining Germany in the European war.

Parliament has been called for September 11, the normal date.

The Turkish-German trade agreement, which expired August 31, is not being renewed or prolonged, it was said, because Germany failed to deliver military supplies as payment for Turkish goods.

British Stop German-Bound Ore --

Hamburg, Sept. 5—(AP via Radio)—The official German radio reported today that a Dutch freighter carrying ore "which was possibly destined for Germany" was stopped by a British warship and escorted into Ramsgeest harbor, England.

The station ascribed its report to the Dutch newspaper, Allgemeen Handelsblatt.

Claim Two British Planes Down --

Berlin, Sept. 5—(AP)—The official German news agency, DNE, announced two British scouting planes were shot down over Hamburg today.

The news bureau asserted that four British planes appeared over Hamburg during the afternoon and were promptly engaged by German scouting planes.

French Penetrate German Line --

Paris, Sept. 5—(AP via Radio)—The French government announced today that French forces had made contact with the German troops on the western front and had penetrated into German territory.

A semi-official Paris radio reported trouble in Germany, and said there had been disorders in Cologne, Dusseldorf and Essen, as well as the areas of all Czechoslovakia.

Dispatches from Copenhagen report naval fighting off the coast of Denmark.

Britain Limits Tourists' Funds --

London, Sept. 5—(AP)—An official order today stated foreign tourists may not take more than 25 pounds (currently about $100) in foreign exchange from the United Kingdom unless a special permit is obtained.

Prague Jews' Shops Raided --

Prague, Sept. 5—(AP)—Twenty Jewish shops were raided and damaged by crowds today. Afterward police guarded the stores while crowds shouted anti-Jewish slogans.

Mother and Son Die in Airplane Tragedy

Comstock, N. Y., Sept. 5—(AP)—The wife and son of Jeremiah T. Mahoney, former Amateur Athletic Union president, died late last night in an airplane crash atop a wooded Adirondack mountain ridge.

State Police Corporal John T. Lutz identified the bodies, found in and near the plane after a long search, as those of Mrs. Molly Cashen Mahoney, 52, and Canice P. Mahoney, 25, both of New York City.

The elder Mahoney, a former New York state Supreme Court justice and the city's Democratic mayoralty candidate in 1937, was notified of the crash at the family's New York City home.

AIR RAID ALARM HEARD IN PARIS; SCOUTS ARE BUSY

French Report Movements Of Forces "Develop Normally" Today

Paris, Sept. 5—(AP)—France pursued her second day of military operations against Germany today with the official announcement that "movements develop normally for the entire land, sea and air forces."

This was announced in the war ministry's Communiqué No. 3.

Germany replied with an aerial invasion which brought an early-morning air raid alarm to Paris. Later, an official military source said the planes had come on "a scouting trip" without dropping bombs.

The three issued war ministry communiqués have failed to shed any light on France's operations along her Rhineland frontier beyond the fact she has gone to the military aid of her ally, Poland.

Official advices reported "stubborn fighting," however, on the German-Polish eastern front.

Testing Fortifications
France's operations were understood to be testing Germany's fortifications to seek the weak point of the Siegfried line and divert German forces from Poland.

"There could be no question for the moment of a great offensive," wrote Charles Morice in Le Petit Parisien, "but of necessary preliminary operations. Our troops have received a baptism of fire. From one end of the line to the other they have shown perfect calm and fine valor."

Sirens wailed on top of Paris buildings at 3:35 this morning (8:35 P. M., Monday, CST). Parisians fully expected a bombing expedition, now that the French army and artillery have opened fire in the east.

But the planes did not appear over the city. Flying high, they were understood to have passed over Charleville in the Ardennes department of northern France, near the Belgian border.

Release Artificial Fog
Soon after the alarm first alarm sounded, an artificial fog was released by Paris anti-aircraft defense forces. It hung over the city so thick it obscured a bright moon and hid Paris from any attacking aircraft. The alarm was not lifted until long after dawn, at 7:05 A. M. (12:05 A. M., C. S. T.)

Authorities suggested the German planes might have been en route to scout the disposition of French and British forces along the English channel.

The French air force already has been active scouting the German Siegfried line for weaknesses and observation secrets that were closed to it until late Sunday, when the war legally began.

Three More Die of Typhoid at Hospital
Springfield, Ill., Sept. 5—(AP)—Three additional deaths over the Labor Day weekend raised to 12 the death toll in a typhoid fever outbreak at the Manteno state hospital for insane, the state health department reported today.

The report said Rosina Diana, Veronic Ligowski, and Harriet Goodwin, all patients, were the latest victims. The list of persons now ill with typhoid included 239 patients and 45 employees of the northern Illinois institution.

Changes have been made in the sewage disposal system to prevent the water supply from artesian wells again becoming polluted, according to the report. Polluted drinking water was the source of the disease outbreak.

Farmer Dies of Injuries Received July 28, Last

An inquest was under way this afternoon at the Vaughan undertaking establishment in Amboy into the death of Frank P. Burkhardt, 63, Lee Center township farmer, who died at his home at 8:20 o'clock this morning, presumably from injuries received in an automobile accident July 28.

The accident, it was revealed at the inquest conducted by Deputy Coroner Dr. A. F. Moore of Dixon, occurred at an especially dangerous corner, a mile north and three miles east of the Burkhardt farm home, high weeds and an embankment hiding views of drivers on either road.

The car which struck the Burkhardt car, which was driven by the victim's son, Frank J., is presumed to have been the property of Dr. C. C. Pool of Compton, and was driven by his chauffeur, a man named Mackey. Dr. Pool is in California and could not be reached today.

The funeral of Mr. Burkhardt will be held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic church in Sublette, with burial in St. Mary's cemetery there.

Says War Will Be Less Costly in Lives Lost

Washington, Sept. 5—(AP)—Capt. William S. Rainbridge, reserve officer in the naval medical corps, predicts that the present European war will be less costly to human life than previous conflicts.

Writing in the Military Surgeon, journal of the Association of Military Surgeons, he said medical treatment was more effective than ever before, even though weapons of destruction were more powerful.

Proclamation of Neutrality Gets FDR's Signature

Washington, Sept. 5—(AP)—President Roosevelt proclaimed American neutrality today.

He signed, and Secretary Hull counter-signed, a proclamation of over 4,000 words establishing an extensive list of regulations designed to keep Americans from projecting the United States into the European war.

The President penned his name on the document about 1 p. m., C. S. T., in the presence of Hull, acting Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, Sumner Welles, under-secretary of state, A. A. Berle, assistant secretary of state and Stephen Early, presidential secretary.

Early announced that the same group would return to the White House at 4:30 p. m., C. S. T. to give consideration to a second proclamation, to be issued under the neutrality act.

The latter immediately will put in operation an embargo on exports of arms, ammunition and implements of war to the combatant nations. It also will place restrictions on travel of Americans on vessels of the warring countries.

Early told reporters: "The one thing the President probably is most concerned about at the present time is the devising of means to keep war away from our shores and our waters."

Earlier, the state department had virtually halted travel of American citizens to Europe.

Another proclamation, to be issued under the 1937 neutrality act, was scheduled for consideration at a White House conference later in the afternoon. It will put in operation an embargo on exports of arms, ammunition, and implements of war to the combatant nations.

Text of Proclamation
In the first proclamation issued under acts of 1909 and 1917, the president said that: "Whereas a state of war unhappily exists between Germany and France; Poland; and the United Kingdom, India, Australia and New Zealand; and whereas the United States is on terms of friendship and amity with the contending powers, and with the persons inhabiting their several dominions x x x;

"And whereas it is the duty of a neutral government not to permit or suffer the making of its territory or territorial waters subservient to the purposes of war;

"Now, therefore, I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, president of the United States of America, in order to preserve the neutrality of the United States and of its citizens and of persons within its territory and jurisdiction, and to enforce its laws and treaties, and in order that all persons, being warned of the general tenor of the laws and treaties of the United States in this behalf, and of the law of na-

Results Disputed
Results of Britain's first direct blow at Germany—a spectacular bombing raid on the German fleet near the Kiel canal—were disputed by the two powers.

Britain said "severe damage" was inflicted on two of Germany's five battleships. Germany said that 10 of the 12 British raiders were shot down and that no damage was done the Nazi fleet.

While the German war-machine pounded Polish defenses in eastern Europe, little light was shed on the western front, where France was understood to be feeling out German fortifications to find out where a telling blow might be delivered.

France said cryptically that "movements develop normally" for the land, sea and air forces at war with Germany.

The reich's "first soldier," Adolf Hitler, followed his soldiers across the Polish corridor as Berlin announced the army had cut through to join East Prussia again with German proper and cut off Polish troops in the north end of the corridor to the Baltic.

Germany asserted 15,000 Polish prisoners had been taken and said East-Prussian forces were only 50 miles from Warsaw.

Warsaw Bombed Again
The Polish capital suffered a new air raid, but the German invaders confined their bombs to the suburbs and military objectives. A series of such raids yesterday inflicted heavy casualties.

Polish strategists shortened their defense lines under intensified German attacks—apparently by "strategic" retreats—and claimed a Polish cavalry unit had penetrated East Prussia.

The man who for years has dined into his people the "naturalness" of war, Premier Mussolini, remained enigmatic about Italy's future course now that his axis partner is engaged in conflict.

OFFICERS OF GOVERNMENT MAY FOLLOW

U. S. Ambassador and Family Leave; General War News

Warsaw, Sept. 5—(AP)—Thousands of Poles and several hundred foreigners, including most of the Americans remaining here, left this Polish capital city today, fleeing into the interior beyond the reach of German armies and German planes.

There were reports that officials of the government itself might leave within a few hours.

Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr., the United States Ambassador, his family and most of his staff left during the day in a motor caravan flying American flags. They headed for an undisclosed spot.

Other Americans, including a number of Polish descent, occupied extra seats in the Biddle caravan. As it was getting underway, bomb explosions and the roar of the "archies"—anti-aircraft guns—were heard in the distance.

Landreth M. Harrison, second secretary, remained here in charge of the embassy. Harrison and what staff was left for him planned to stay on in the embassy premises.

Several American newspapermen left with the caravan. (Lloyd Lehrbas of The Associated Press is remaining in Warsaw for the time being. Other Associated Press correspondents left to cover the embassy and other points).

The high-gendered German war machine thundered on into Poland today while Poland's allies, Britain and France, sought ways to bring her relief.

Germany announced the capture of two rich prizes—the cities of Katowice and Chorzow—in iron and coal producing Silesia.

Warsaw heard reports that officials of the Polish government might leave their capital within a few hours. German planes made two raids on the city in bright September sunshine. Most of the staffs of the United States, British and other embassies arranged to leave.

Germany said 11 Polish planes had been destroyed in an air battle between Lodz and Warsaw, and asserted that the entire seventh Polish army division had been crushed near Czesochowa on the southwestern front.

POLICEMAN OF EUROPE AGAIN ON HIS BEAT

John Bull Hopes To "Muddle Through" as Always

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer

New York, Sept. 5.—One of the greatest issues—if indeed it isn't the greatest—involved in this head-on collision between Herr Hitler and the Anglo-French allies, is whether Britain is to maintain its ancient position as "Policeman of Europe," or whether the nazi chieftain is to take over that job.

This isn't by any means the first time that someone in Europe has taken over John Bull's attention. On numerous occasions, he has grabbed his truncheon. And the interesting thing about it is that, with some rather unimportant exceptions, he always has managed to "muddle through," as he himself puts it.

The story of John Bull's tour as gendarme of Europe forms many vital chapters of history over the past 400 years. It is also a red-blooded tale of adventure, for its clashes at arms lift it out of the ordinary run of international politics.

The precise-minded statesman doesn't talk about the "Policeman of Europe," but employs such abstruse terms as "balance of power." Still, to the man in the street, the English bobby (that's what they call a cop over there) is much more understandable than is the language of international politics. Anyway, in this case the "policeman" and the "balance of power" mean close enough to the same thing for ordinary purposes.

Began About 1500 A. D.
John Bull first donned his blue uniform and helmet with the chin-strap along about 1500 in the reign of Henry VII. This king created the British navy and thereby gave John a truncheon with which to police.

It wasn't until the succeeding reign of the much-married Henry VIII, however, that the police job really got under way. It was then that the famous Cardinal Wolsey developed the principle of "balance of power," a phrase which the erudite like to roll under their tongues.

The meaning of it was that Britain was to throw its great weight on the weaker side of a dispute to even things up and prevent war and, one must assume, to serve the interests of his Britannic majesty.

Henry used this new club to ward off war with Spain, which had become very strong in the Netherlands. It then was, and still is, held that he who controls the Netherlands may be a threat to England. However, Queen Elizabeth in 1588 neatly cracked up the armada of Philip II of Spain, and thereby reduced the Spanish power in the Netherlands.

Period of Rest
Then came a period of rest. But the Dutch waxed strong and upset the balance of power again. This in turn permitted the French to gain so much strength that England felt impelled to oppose France. That war started in 1702 and ended in 1730 in a treaty which more than incidentally removed the Spanish power from the Netherlands.

During the American Revolution and the wars just prior on this continent, Britain slipped in control and France became policeman of Europe.

Then the great Napoleon came on the scene, and Britain's weakness made it easier for him to overrun the continent. Just at this juncture, however, England did one of those "muddling through" acts and returned to power when Wellington defeated Napoleon at Waterloo.

From Bonaparte to the beginning of the World War in 1914—100 years—John Bull used his

Direct Hits Cut German Battle Fleet Two-Fifths

London, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Great Britain's first blow at Germany—a spectacular bombing raid against the German fleet—was declared officially today to have been struck successfully.

The British Royal Air Force, a communique issued by the Ministry of Information said, scored direct hits with heavy bombs and damaged two German battleships severely. The German navy has only five.

The Royal Air Force bombers carried out the daring daylight raid yesterday afternoon against the German fleet at the entrance of the strategic Kiel Canal linking the North Sea with the Baltic.

The aerial attack followed a night mass flight of British aircraft showering northern and western Germany with 6,000,000 copies of a message to the German people.

The message blamed the war on German leadership and declared British people want to live in peace with the German people.

Flight Significant
That British planes were able to great power as a threat to prevent wars which would upset the balance of power. That war produced a new map, but Britain still has remained "Policeman of Europe."

That brings us up to the present. The position as war gets under way is strategically somewhat like it was when Napoleon was piling up victories.

England then had no way in which to attack the Little Corporal. She couldn't get at him handily.

And military experts now point to the difficulties—notably the German Siegfried line opposite the French frontier—which the allies must overcome before getting to close grips with Herr Hitler.

carry out this big scale flight over German territory and return to their bases without casualties was hailed here as highly significant in view of frequent nazi boasts of the impregnability of their aerial defenses.

The communique mentioned "some casualties" in the attack on the battleships. British newspapers published a German news agency report that five British bombers which had participated in the raid were brought down by anti-aircraft batteries.

"Several direct hits with heavy bombs were registered on a German battleship in Schilling Roads off Wilhelmshafen, which resulted in severe damage," said the information communique.

"At Brunsbuttel, an attack was carried out on a battleship lying alongside the Mole, causing heavy damage. During the operation, which was carried out in very unfavorable weather conditions, our aircraft encountered an air attack and anti-aircraft fire resulting in some casualties."

To have scored direct hits on the battleships, the British planes, it was believed here, must have plunged in power dives to a low altitude against enemy fire before dropping their heavy bombs.

Five Battleships

The German navy's battleships are the 25,000-ton Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, completed last year, and the 10,000-ton "pocket" battleships, Deutschland, Admiral Scheer and Admiral Graf Spee, completed in 1933-1936.

Intense preparations were continued by the government. Several aliens have been rounded up, Sir John Anderson, new Home Secretary, disclosed.

The fleet, army and airforce received messages from King George in which the sovereign pointed out their grave responsibilities.

The British press pointedly contrasted Britain's first war action—the bombardment of the German war vessels—with the sinking of the British liner Athenia Sunday night—which Britain charged to a German torpedo.

Fatalities Unknown

Approximately 800 survivors were to be debarked at Galway, Ireland, today by the Norwegian rescue ship Knut Nelson. How many of the Athenia's 1,347 passengers, including 311 Americans, had lost their lives in the torpedo explosion has not yet been disclosed.

In Berlin German officials denied the Athenia had been torpedoed by a German vessel and said she must have struck a floating British mine. Britain said no mines had been laid in the area.

The British government intensified efforts to reach the German people over the heads of the nazi government by broadcasting at intervals in German a message from Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain.

Chamberlain declared, "we are not fighting against you, the German people for whom we have no bitter feeling, but against a tyrannous regime which has betrayed not only its own people, but the whole of western civilization and all that we hold dear."

Son Born to Sec. and Mrs. Ickes Last Night

Baltimore, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Mars took precedence over the stork last night and prevented Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes from being present at the birth of a son to his young wife.

Ickes was detained in Washington at an emergency cabinet meeting for war news discussion and arrived several hours after the birth of his 7-pound, 11-ounce heir at Woman's Clinic, Johns Hopkins hospital.

Dr. Edmund Harrison, who attended Mrs. Ickes, said mother and the new cabinet baby were "doing splendidly."

The marriage of Ickes and the former Jane Dahlman of Milwaukee set Washington society buzzing with surprise May 24, 1938.

Mrs. Ickes, 26, is the youngest cabinet wife. Ickes, 65, has a son Raymond, by his first marriage. The son is a New York attorney.

MARBLE TABLE TOPS

From Elizabethan England come records of marble stone table tops in 1588, although it was not until early part of the Eighteenth century that marble appeared as an important furnishing feature in England. Its use in Italy most probably predates this, since the natural resources there and the architectural character of the furniture would both encourage the use of marble.

European War to Play Vital Part in Poll

Washington, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The European war is developing new and powerful factors in the American political situation. It is regarded here as almost certain to have a vital effect on the 1940 presidential campaign.

If the conflict continues, United States foreign policy undoubtedly will be the most important topic before the coming congressional session, and thus tend to push controversial domestic issues into the background.

Although congress refused to act at the last session on President Roosevelt's neutrality recommendations and torpedoed other administration legislation, the chief executive's supporters feel that he has a right to expect the cooperation of congress in handling future foreign policy.

They believe that the pressure of war abroad will eliminate much of the partisan bickering which helped to establish an effective anti-administration coalition of Republicans and dissident Democrats.

Specifically, they think a desire for national unity will rule out the tactics of filibuster and delay which otherwise might be employed in a fight against administration neutrality proposals.

If the president were able to regain greater support in congress, many politicians believe increasing attention would be given to the question of whether he will seek a third term.

Delegates to Moline Conference Taken Sick After Church Dinner

Moline, Ill., Sept. 5.—(AP)—Delegates to the Central North-west Methodist conference who were stricken, apparently by food poisoning during the closing session were reported recovering today.

Nearly 50 persons were taken ill Sunday night. They had eaten a church supper but officials theorized some might have been affected by the heat.

According to geologists, the rocks which make up the Palisades of New York are more than 150,000,000 years old.

- 1 CAMELS were found to contain 1 MORE TOBACCO BY WEIGHT than the average for the 15 other of the largest-selling brands.
- 2 CAMELS BURNED SLOWER THAN ANY OTHER BRAND TESTED—25% SLOWER THAN THE AVERAGE TIME OF THE 15 OTHER OF THE LARGEST-SELLING BRANDS! By burning 25% slower, on the average, Camels give smokers the equivalent of 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!
- 3 In the same tests, CAMELS HELD THEIR ASH FAR LONGER than the average time for all the other brands.

"I know from years of experience that Camels give a longer smoke—milder, cooler, mellower"

SAYS JOE WILLIAMS
FAMOUS SPORTS EXPERT

LONG-BURNING SMOKES have a big appeal for Joe Williams, as well as for many another cigarette smoker. Joe, whose keen comments on sports are eagerly read by millions of fans, is equally "in the know" on cigarettes too. He says: "Every Camel gives me an extra period of cigarette enjoyment—a longer smoke, and a milder, cooler, mellower smoke! Naturally, such a cigarette has a more appealing taste. Yes, sir," Joe concludes, "it's a real thrill to smoke a Camel." You, too, will find that Camel's long-burning, costlier tobaccos do give more pleasure per puff—AND—more puffs per pack. That's pleasure plus economy—a shrewd buy. No wonder America's smokers have made Camels their cigarette choice No. 1.

They planned to leave Friday evening on the return trip but were detained because of a dense fog and made the return flight Saturday. The distance covered was about 600 miles for the round trip.

LAST NIGHT AT AIRPORT

The Fargo theater team of DeKalb smothered the Dixon L. N. U. under a blanket of 15 runs to eight scored by the locals last night at the airport in a holiday exhibition. The DeKalbs collected 17 hits and the L. N. U. clouted out seven. Flash Fordham and Jensen did the pitching for the defenders. In the preliminary game the bat boys of the softball leagues played the Dixon Airport girls and the lassies won 9 to 7.

HOLIDAY AT PLUM HOLLOW

Over 200 golfers were reported to have enjoyed the sporty Plum Hollow public golf course here over the Labor Day week end. Outstanding in the scores carded was Leo Conway's eagle on number 7 yesterday when he dropped the ball in with three strokes on a par 5 hole of 450 yards. Using a number nine iron Leo sunk a 90-yard approach. This morning Frank Randall and his crew of workmen broke ground for the new club house.

Reds Lose Full Game in Labor Day Bombings By St. Louis Cardinals

BY BILL WHITE

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Athletics and the Cincinnati Reds must have a fairly good impression today of how it feels to be victims of an air raid.

Under a strafing attack, the A's were felled twice by the Yankees, 7-6 and 2-0, in Labor Day's most crushing demonstration. The Reds lost some prestige — and a full game in the won-lost column — when the St. Louis Cardinals bombed them, 4-0, in the first game. The second was a 6-6 tie, darkness stopping it short of a decision.

That left the title picture a trifle muddled in the National League, but clear as consommé in the American. The Yankees, thanks to timely hitting by Frank Crosetti and Red Rolfe and fine pitching by Marius Russo, are 14½ games ahead of the pack—their biggest margin of the year.

But the Reds are only four games away from the pennant-hungry Cardinals.

Fancy Happenings

Otherwise in the National League there were some fancy happenings. The Pirates reversed two lickings they took just a year ago—at the start of a Cub winning streak that carried them to the title—by winning 2-1 and 6-3 as Max Butcher and Bob Klinger elbowed effectively.

The Giants captured fourth place from Brooklyn by dumping the Phillies twice, 10-0 and 7-6, with Walt Higbe claiming the dubious distinction of losing both for the Phils.

The Bees and the Dodgers divided their twin bill, the Brooklyn taking the first, 5-4 and the Bees the second, 5-2.

In the junior loop, the Washington Senators, able to win only four of 18 games so far from the Red Sox, rose twice yesterday to win, 7-6 and 6-4.

Too Dark

Bob Harris limited the Detroit Tigers to five hits in giving the Browns a 3-2 victory in the opener. The second was all square at 5-5 when it got too dark to continue.

The Chicago-Cleveland night affair went 10 innings before the White Sox could get the decision, 5-2. The first game, an afternoon tilt, was postponed by rain.

CEDAR RAPIDS CHAMPS MEET DECATUR IN SERIES TONIGHT

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rewarding with a new managerial contract for next season, Pilot Ollie Marquardt sends his pennant-winning Cedar Rapids crew against Decatur tonight in the opening of competition in the post-season Shaughnessy playoff.

The two teams begin their three-out-of-five series at Cedar Rapids while second-place Evansville entertains fourth-place Springfield in a similar series. After two games at Cedar Rapids and Evansville the two engagements will be ended in Decatur and Springfield.

The two winners then meet in another three-out-of-five test.

Evansville won the pennant last year and Decatur the playoff. Marquardt was given a new contract for 1940 last night by Harry S. Johnson, president of the Cedar Rapids club. Marquardt's Clinton team finished in the cellar last year, but he drove Cedar Rapids to the flag this season with a fine stretch performance that nosed Evansville out by one game.

RUMOR SAYS GREENBERG MAY JOIN RANKS OF NEW YORKERS

New York, Sept. 4 — (AP) — The rumor that the New York Yankees will acquire Hank Greenberg before another season rolls around may have more to a sawdust foundation, but two factors seem to stand in the way of such a deal.

The first is the "what will people say" question. This spring there were semi-serious suggestions that the Yanks should be broken up for the good of the league. They led today by 12½ games. Adding to their obvious superiority by taking stars of other major league clubs would bring down a shower of criticism.

The second hurdle would be the departure from an apparent Yankee policy of growing their little cabbages on their own farms, or acquiring their new players just when they were ripe for picking from other minor league clubs.

SOFTBALL SERIES OPENS WITH WIN FOR MARKETEERS

Second Game With the Industrial League Champs Tonight

In ten innings of softball the California Market, champions of the City League, nosed out the Browns, champions of the Industrial League, in the first game of the playoff series Sunday night at the Airport, 2 to 1.

The second game in the best-three-out-of-five will be played tonight. In the preliminary game the State Hospital and Borden will clash.

In the game Sunday night the California Market club scored its first run in the fifth when Hasselberg was walked, E. Carlson singled and Hasselberg was thrown out at third by the right fielder. E. Carlson went to second on the throw and scored on an error by the shortstop.

Winning Run Scores

In the first of the tenth the Marketeers scored their winning run when Bert Carlson was out on a fly to right field. Eckhart was retired from pitcher to first. Reilly singled and went to second on an error by the left fielder. Boyd was safe at first on an error by the first sacker and on the same error the winning run crossed the plate.

Browns scored their only run in the last of the third when Gurbur walked, went to second on the second basemen's error, reached third on a passed ball and scored on Earl Flanagan's single. Eckhart was the winning pitcher and allowed six hits. Max Fordam was the losing chucker and allowed five hits.

In the preliminary affair the Ashton girls spanked the Dixon lassies, 9 to 3, in six innings. Each team collected four hits.

AUSSIES LEAVE FOR HOME WITH TENNIS TROPHY

Future of Davis Cup Matches Left in Doubt by War

Haverford, Pa., Sept. 5.—(AP) —Australia's gallant tennis two-some, successful in their quest for the Davis Cup, travelled westward toward eventual war service today while their defeated United States rivals headed toward New York, hopeful of saving their wounds in the national championships.

They say history never repeats itself, but it did yesterday for the lads from down under. Just as the Australians of 1914 turned back America, 3 to 2, as the World War broke out, so did determined Adrian Quist and John Bromwich come from behind yesterday to defeat Bobby Riggs and Frank Parker for a 3 to 2 victory before returning home for service in another armed conflict.

As the Aussies left for the Pacific coast, where they plan to board the American liner Monterey for Australia Sept. 13, the question of next year's Davis Cup play remained unanswered.

No Matches Last Time

There were no matches between the war years of 1914 and 1919 and Sir Norman Brookes, president of the Australian Lawn Tennis association who played on the 1914 Anzac team, refused to venture a guess whether the Australians, now at war again, would be able to defend the cup in 1940.

It was all over but the shouting when Quist turned back Riggs in five blistering sets yesterday, 6-1, 6-4, 3-6, 3-6, 6-4. The Anzac was at his best and after Riggs spent his fire in rallying to take the third and fourth sets, Quist had enough reserve strength to outstroke the Chicagoan in the fifth and deciding set.

After that, Bromwich, a disappointment in his earlier cup appearances, routed Parker, 6-0, 6-3, 6-1.

Bromwich and I talked it over Sunday night," Quist said afterwards, "and he promised me if I won he would too."

Six Negroes Killed

By Chicago I. C. Train

Chicago, Sept. 5.—(AP) — Six Negroes, four adults and two children, were killed last night when as they stood waving goodbye to relatives, they were struck by an Illinois Central railroad suburban express train at the East Forty-third street crossing.

The victims rode from the Roosevelt station downtown with their relatives aboard a steam excursion train bound for Memphis, Tenn. They got off at 43rd street and were standing on the tracks waving as the southbound excursion left.

The northbound suburban train struck the group, killing the six and injuring two others.

Notre Dame Head Coach Loses Six From 1938's Varsity Line

By TOM SILER

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 5.—(AP) —The fighting Irish of Notre Dame will go into the football wars this fall without six members of 1938's varsity line, but it's a little too early to weep over Head Coach Layden's plight.

Layden himself isn't shedding any tears. He's taking it easy on a fishing trip in Wisconsin, resting up for the arduous task ahead — to match or improve last year's record of eight victories out of a tough nine-game schedule.

Capt. John Francis Kelly at right end is the only member of the line returning, but there is at least one letterman for every position on the team and a total of 16 letter-winners back on the Irish squad.

The two great roadless tracts of Yosemite national park, combined, comprise an area of approximately half a million acres. Here, as in other wilderness national park areas, conditions are truly primeval. That is, all original plant and animal life is given full protection and no travel is possible except by primitive means. Unlike other mountain areas outside the national park system, no hunting or other disturbance of wildlife is permitted and all forms are free to carry on their original natural existence. Forest and other plant life is fully protected. Grazing of sheep, cattle or other domestic stock is prohibited.

Shower Bath Useful

Addition of a shower to a bathroom increases its usefulness and can be achieved now in both the leg type and the built-in type of tub.

There is a variety of equipment on the market, and the home owner may select one of the new types of showerheads said to effect a water savings of 25 to 50 per cent over the old style. Showers can be installed in any built-in bathtub by an experienced plumber in short order. Such showers involve no changing of pipes; they are permanent, fully automatic with a minimum number of moving parts, and low in cost and economical in the use of water.

ATHENIA SURVIVORS DECLARE THE GERMAN SUBMARINE FIRED TWICE AT LINER AFTER TORPEDOING IT

Rumored 90 Perished in First Sea Disaster of War

Greenock, Scotland, Sept. 5.—(AP)—A survivor landing from one of two rescue ships here today declared a German submarine which torpedoed the British liner Athenia fired two shells at the ship as passengers and crew were taking to lifeboats.

The survivor was John McEwan of Glasgow, who also stated "it was rumored that 90 perished."

Other survivors said emphatically the Athenia was sunk by a submarine, and that the submarine fired two shells at the sinking vessel.

"We had a terrible time," said McEwan, "and we knew at once what it was."

"We all put on our lifebelts and went to our boat stations. The submarine then dived out of sight and several times during the night, when we were in the lifeboats, we heard the submarine passing below."

"The conduct of the passengers was magnificent. I don't know how many have been killed, but it was rumored that 90 perished."

There was a great deal of smoke when the torpedo struck our vessel. But through the smoke I could see the submarine break the surface and before we knew where we were, it had opened up with its gun and fired two shots at us.

"Every lifeboat was away an hour after we were struck. The liner first of all listed and then righted herself and began to go slowly down by the head."

Returned for Woman
"We learned afterwards that a woman on whom an operation had just been performed had been left on the Athenia. One of the lifeboats went back and took her off."

"We drifted until 2:30 in the morning when a Norwegian ship picked us up."

"I saw the sub quite distinctly and I estimate that it was a quarter of a mile away."

One member of the crew, Robert Gillan of Glasgow, said he saw a 12-year-old girl lying dead in a deck chair, her body torn by shell splinters.

A Mrs. Turner of Toronto, World War widow, said, "I am the luckiest woman on earth. I was looking over the rail when the torpedo smashed us. The ship lurched violently, and I was thrown to the deck."

"When I came to I saw several people lying dead on the deck and then I heard the two shells."

"Later I found myself in a life-boat—the water was up to my waist."

Several Died on Ships
A fireman in the Athenia crew said he thought two shells were fired.

The two destroyers brought approximately 500 survivors to Greenock. Several died on the rescue ships and were buried at sea.

British seamen on the destroyers gave up their own rations for the children survivors and improvised a laundry to wash clothes of mothers and children.

Most of the passengers were at dinner, the first class ones in evening dress, when the ship was attacked.

A smashing blow from the propeller of a Norwegian rescue ship shattered one of the Athenia's lifeboats and cost the lives of several dozen women in the boat, a seaman of the Athenia said.

"After the first explosion, the submarine came to the surface about a hundred yards off," he explained.

"All the Athenia's lifeboats were launched within an hour and a quarter, and three other members of the crew and myself had charge of one boat containing 52 women."

Hit By Propeller
"When the Norwegian boat came to our rescue we drew alongside and made fast, but our boat got under her stern and was struck by the propeller which knocked the bottom out of our boat."

"Several of the people were killed. I drifted about in the water for three hours in my lifeboat before I was picked up by the yacht Southern Cross."

A third class steward on the Athenia said: "I took ten people at my table to boat stations, and we all managed to get into a lifeboat."

I saw one boat with seventy passengers in it fall from the davits into the water. Most of the occupants were women and children, and the majority of them were injured."

When the first of the two destroyers reached Greenock, its decks crowded with women survivors, it was greeted with cheers.

A second ship followed the destroyer in and out of the fog and began discharging the injured. They were rushed to hospitals in a fleet of ambulances. The harbor was closed to the public and under heavy guard. No one was permitted near the rescue ships, which appeared to be filled mainly with women and children.

Roosevelt Pledges Peace Effort

President Franklin D. Roosevelt is shown above as he spoke to a world wide audience from Washington. He expressed the hope and belief that the United States would keep out of war.

were traveling with us are safe."

Crippled Ship Shelled
Captain Cook said that immediately after the torpedo was fired, the submarine rose to the surface and shelled the Athenia.

"One shell carried away the main mast," he related.

"It was evidently aimed at the wireless room, but missed its mark."

He called witnesses to tell newspapermen that the torpedo was fired at a range of 800 to 1,000 yards on the port side of the vessel.

One officer said he saw the periscope of the submarine just before the torpedo struck.

Other officers and members of the crew said they saw a line of smoke rising from the water off the port side just before the disaster. The smoke described a complete circle over the surface of the water.

Captain Cook said he did not know how many were dead and injured.

Faced Danger Bravely
The captain added, "There was no panic whatever on board the ship. The passengers faced danger bravely."

About 250 Americans were among those brought here. Many wore night clothes and blankets—56 hours after the disaster. The Norwegian vessel carried no regular physician; so two doctors went out last night from Galway to meet the Knut Nelson outside the Aran Islands.

An improvised hot food depot at the dock was operated by an emergency committee at the direction of the Bishop of Galway. A preparatory college building was used as a receiving station where clothing was provided.

Members of the Knut Nelson's crew said many of the Athenia's passengers were killed when the ship's boiler exploded after the torpedo had struck.

The injured brought by the Knut Nelson were being cared for in Galway Central hospital. Convents, schools and hotels were thrown open for the uninjured.

A woman's committee under direction of the Lloyd Mayoress of Galway helped care for the injured. Because there were only 20 berths on the Knut Nelson some of the injured had to lie on improvised beds on deck.

Maxine Robinson, 16, of Austin, Tex., member of a party of 16 college girls who had been on vacation in Europe, said all her party was saved.

Girl Tells Story
"We were just finishing dinner," she said, "when we felt a jolt and the ship was plunged into darkness. All of us jumped up on the tables. Then we went up on deck and slid down the ropes to the lifeboats."

"We were in the lifeboats only a few minutes when there was a flash and we felt something whiz past us going in the direction of the liner. We were four hours in the lifeboats before help arrived. My hands are all blistered from rowing."

Gordon Hanson, member of the art department of the Boston Herald, bewailed the loss of pictures he had painted during a vacation in Norway.

"The Germans say it was sunk by a mine, do they?" he asked.

"They're crazy. We saw smoke in the distance after the first torpedo was fired. Then the submarine fired a shell at the wireless rig but it fell short. After the torpedo hit the ship the third class dining salon was flooded almost immediately."

Washington, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Passenger lists made public by the state department showed there were at least 12 Illinois persons aboard the torpedoed liner Athenia. They were:

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ratcliffe and daughter, Faith, of Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. William Bohn of Elizabethtown.

Damon Boynton of Chicago. Jeanette Jordan, about 30, of Freeport, who has been teaching Latin and English in a Madison.

TWO LINERS ARRIVE
New York, Sept. 5.—(AP)—With 539 passengers crowded into improvised quarters, the United States liner President Roosevelt arrived from Europe today.

In addition to her 125 extra passengers she carried $21,000,000 in gold.

The Cunard White Star liner Sumaria, a day late, followed with 693 passengers from Europe, 245 of them Americans.

Meanwhile whereabouts of the great North German Lloyd liner Bremen, which sailed from New York last Wednesday night without passengers or cargo, continued a mystery. The $20,000,000 vessel announced her destination as Bremerhaven, but it was believed she may have turned southward, hoping to reach Veracruz, Mexico, where another German liner, the Columbus, docked yesterday instead of going to Germany.

The Samaria had 1,044 passengers when she left Liverpool, among them 555 Americans. At Boston 351 passengers debarked. She also carried gold valued at between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000.

INQUIRY BEGUN
Washington, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The government began gathering testimony today to fix responsibility for the sinking of the liner Athenia with over 300 Americans aboard.

The state department announced that the American minister to Ireland, John Cudahy, went from Dublin to Galway and cabled from the latter port that he had interviewed the captain of the Athenia, members of the crew and a number of American passengers. They all stated, he cabled, that the Athenia was sunk by a submarine.

Cudahy reported that many of those who landed at Galway had lost all their possessions.

BOSTON ARRIVED
Boston, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The American steamship Exambion of the American export line arrived today from southern Europe with 118 tourist American passengers, including 10 who were stranded at Gibraltar by cancellation of sailing of the Conti de Savoia.

FROM POLAND
New York, Sept. 5.—(AP)—The Gdynia America (Polish) liner Batory arrived today from Europe with 642 passengers, most of them Americans.

She was tied up indefinitely at her Hoboken, N. J., pier after her scheduled departure tonight for Gdynia with 160 passengers had been cancelled due to war perils.

Christian Science Churches

"Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 3.

The Golden Text was, "God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him" (Genesis 1:27).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "But now thus saith the Lord that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine. I am the Lord, your Holy One, the creator of Israel, your King. This people have I formed for myself; they shall show forth my praise" (Isaiah 43:1, 15, 21).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man is not matter; he is not made up of brain, blood, bones, and other material elements. The Scriptures inform us that man is made in the image and likeness of God. . . . Man is spiritual and perfect; and because he is spiritual and perfect, he must be so understood in Christian Science" (p. 475).

Gdynia with 160 passengers had been cancelled due to war perils.
